

6516205758.txt

I am an avid satellite radio user and find the instant traffic and weather information useful. It provides continuous information that can save me time when traveling. In addition, it provides safety for me and my family when severe weather is in an area I am driving in. I find it quicker and easier to use than trying to find a station in an area that I am not familiar with.